PAGE'S POPULAR BOOKS FOR SUMMER READING

THE KINDRED OF THE WILD

By CHARLES G. D. ROBERTS

Author of "The Heart of the Ancient Wood," "The Forge in the Forest," etc.

Illustrated by CHARLES LIVINGSTON BULL

Cloth, Large 12mo, $2.00

". . . is certainly an admirable work. The author's knowledge of animal life is wonderful, and his manner of writing of it unique. He writes for both the old and young —a most rare faculty."—Gen. LEW. WALLACE.

ABROAD WITH THE JIMMIES

By LILIAN BELL

Author of "The Expatriates," "The Love Affairs of an Old Maid," etc.

Library 12mo, Cloth, Illustrated, $1.50

". . . is a deliciously fresh, graphic book. This writer is so original and unspoiled that her point of view has value. Her unusual treatment, even of the Oberammergau play, gives a zest to the book. And the track of her journey, being out of the usual route, leads always to delightful surprises."—MARY HARTWELL CATHERWOOD.

NOTES IN SEASON.

DODD, MEAD & Co. have in preparation "The Conquest of Charlotte," a new novel by David S. Meldrum, the scene of which is divided between Fife and London.

THE HOME PUBLISHING COMPANY, New York, will publish, on the 21st inst., a story of the "lower coast" of Louisiana, by Colonel Richard Henry Savage, entitled "Special Orders for Commander Leigh." Graphic pictures are given of the plotting of the agents of the Confederate Government in Europe, especially in Paris, and of the adventures and the destruction of the Alabama.

D. APPLETON & Co. have just ready an important book on "The Care of the Teeth," by Dr. S. A. Hopkins, Professor of Theory and Practice of Dentistry in Tuft's College Dental School. The book is addressed to dentists and physicians as well as to the general reader. They have also just ready "The Story of the Art of Music," by Frederick J. Crowest, a new volume in the Library of Useful Stories; and the fourth edition of Dr. Alvah H. Doty's handbook on "Prompt Aid to the Injured," revised to date.

THE BURROWS BROTHERS COMPANY have just ready an attractive reprint of Denton's "A Brief Description of New York, Formerly Called New Netherlands," with the title in facsimile. The text is reprinted from the original edition of 1670 in the Library of Congress, and is prefaced with the bibliographical introduction by Felix Neumann, printed in THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY a short time ago. The edition is limited to 250 copies on hand-made paper and 10 copies on Japan paper. This reprint will be followed by others of equal historic and bibliographic importance.

FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY have just ready the second volume of the truly colossal "Jewish Encyclopedia," covering the subject from "Apocrypha" to "Benash." It has been prepared under the direction of the same staff of editors and writers that made the first volume, and in every respect equals it in excellence and thoroughness. Considering that fully four-fifths of the material for this work had to be created, collected and digested for this special purpose, the work is not conventionally but truthfully a monument of research and information, and as such deserves a full measure of success. Typographically the work is all that can be desired. Especially is this true of the 147 illustrations that accompany this second volume.

F. WARNE & Co. announce a new novel by Mrs. J. H. Needell, author of "Julian Karslake's Secret," etc., entitled "Unstable as Water;" "The Presumption of Stanley Hay, M.P.," an interesting and exciting novel by Nowell Cay, a new writer; "Kitty's Victoria Cross," a pleasing romance of two Irish girls, by Robert Cromie; two new volumes in the Library of Natural History Romance—"Shell Life," by Edward Step, an entertaining as well as instructive book written with the idea of popularizing what has hitherto been considered an abstract subject, and "A Romance of Wild Flowers," also by Mr. Step, both volumes being very fully illustrated; "The Motor Car," an elementary handbook for all who contemplate motoring, by Sir Henry Thompson; also, an essay entitled "The Unknown God?" which is described as "an attempt to seek by careful deduction from available data some certain assurance respecting the influence which the infinite and eternal energy from which all things proceed "has exercised on man from the beginning."

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

☞ Beginning with the issue of July 5, 1902, the titles of net books published under the rules of the American Publishers' Association are preceded by a double asterisk , and the word net follows the price. The titles of fiction (not net) published under the rules are preceded by a dagger †. Net books not covered by the rules, whether published by members of the American Publishers' Association or not, are preceded by a single asterisk, and the word net follows the price. ☜

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

Broome, I: The last days of the Ruskin Co-operative Association. Chic., C: H. Kerr & Co., 1902. c. 2-183 p. 16°, (Standard socialist ser.) cl., 50 c.

The Ruskin Co-operative Association was located west of Nashville in Tennessee. It was an attempt on the part of a group of people to escape from capitalism and to establish co-operation. The idea of founding the colony was originated by Wayland in 1893, shortly after he began the publication of The Coming Nation. The author says his book is an expose of the facts, condition and characters that figured in a movement that was defective in organization and personnel.

California. Supreme ct. Reports of cases; C. P. Pomeroy, rep. v. 135, (1901-2.) San Francisco, Bancroft-Whitney Co., 1902. c. 36+768 p. O. shp., $3.

Cohen, Alfred J., ["Alan Dale," pseud.] A girl who wrote. N. Y., Quail & Warner, [1902.] c. 3+375 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.

The scene is mostly laid in Newspaper Row, New York City. The novel offers a number of "composite" pictures of the managing editor, the reporters, men and women, and others connected with a sensational "daily." There is a love story, in which figures a bright, intelligent woman reporter.

Creswicke, L: South Africa and the Transvaal war. N. Y., Putnam, 1902. 6 v., il. col. pls. por. 8°, per v., $2.50.

*Crosland, T. W. H. The unspeakable Scot. N. Y., Putnam, 1902. [Jl.] c. 3+215 p. D. cl., $1.25 net.

A half humorous, half serious, and wholly ironical indictment of the Scottish character and temperament. It shows that the vogue of the Scot in England and America is the outcome of Saxon indifference and not of Scottish capacity, that it is on the wane, and that it was achieved by the practice of cheap virtues. It aims to prove that in politics, arts, letters, journalism, and sundry other departments of activity, the Scot has never accomplished anything that really matters.

The efforts of a rich but uncultured husband and wife of Hebrew extraction to obtain an entrance into the best society of the hunting county of Trentshire, England, is the leading theme. When fair means fail them, they strike a blow at one of the families, by circulating a scandal, that has but slight basis of wrong. "The credit of the county," however, is in the end upheld, and Mr. and Mrs. Asher are obliged to move to another shire.

Boston and New York, 1774-1776; ed. by C. Knowles Bolton. Bost., C: E. Goodspeed, 1902. c. 88 p. por. sq. O. bds., $4 net.

Thirty-three letters addressed to Percy's father, the first Duke of Northumberland, the Rev. Thomas Percy, compiler of the "Reliques of Ancient English Poetry," General Harvey, Henry Reveley, and others. The peculiar position in English politics occupied by Percy is well known to students of American history, as is also his disaccord with the measures leading to the American war. The letters, which were first discovered in the library of Alnwick Castle, by the Rev. E: G. Porter, of Lexington, Mass., in 1878, contain comments upon men and events that add substantially to our stock of Revolutionary history. The letters have been carefully edited and supplied with an introduction and notes. The frontispiece has been specially etched by Sidney L. Smith.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

JULY 19, 1902.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Books for the "Weekly Record," as well as all information intended for that department, should reach this office by Tuesday morning of each week.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

A QUESTION OF MUSICAL COPYRIGHT.

A CASE now in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York is being anxiously watched by all interested in musical copyright. The case in question is one to determine whether the production of copyrighted music by means of perforated rolls used either in a mechanical piano or organ is an infringement under the Copyright law.

A similar case came before Judge Colt, of the United States District Court of Massachusetts, in 1888, whose opinion was adverse to the publishers. Judge Colt's opinion, in brief, was that—

"To the ordinary mind it is certainly a difficult thing to consider these strips of paper as sheet music. There is no clef, or bars, or lines, or spaces, or other marks which are found in common printed music, but only plain strips of paper, with rows of holes or perforations."

"Copyright is the exclusive right of the owner to multiply and to dispose of copies of an intellectual production. I cannot convince myself that these perforated slips of paper are copies of sheet music, within the meaning of the copyright law. They are not made to be addressed to the eye as sheet music, but they form part of a machine. They are not designed to be used for such purposes as sheet music, nor do they in any sense occupy the same field as sheet music. They are a mechanical invention made for the sole purpose of performing tunes mechanically upon a musical instrument."

Thus far there has been no successful appeal from Judge Colt's opinions, whence it seems to follow that the composer or publisher of a copyrighted piece of music has no protection against a new system of notation or method of performance. Copyright, according to Judge Colt, is not on the idea or the production of the brain, but only on printed notes instead of holes punched in strips of paper, and on the notes as a guide for reproduction by hands instead of by the feet. As The Musical Age points out, "Considering the great number of mechanical pianos now in existence, it is apparent that the publishers of music for them are highly privileged in this freedom to seize and issue any copyrighted composition they please and to sell the same in unlimited quantities without payment of royalty and in disregard of the equitable rights of the composers and the original publishers."

This is a perversion of the intention of the framers of the law, and there ought to be some way of stopping a form of piracy which up to the present time has not been successfully opposed.

TO PROTECT ORIGINALITY OF DESIGN AND TO REPEAL CUSTOMS DUTIES ON BOOKS.

THE INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS OF PUBLISHERS has sent a circular to the various national associations calling attention to the resolutions passed at the sessions of the Congress at Brussels and London regarding the protection of the "get-up" or form of a publication. At Brussels the following was passed:

"Starting with the consideration that the publisher should be protected, like every other manufacturer, in all things appertaining to the form or 'get up' of his productions, the Congress expresses a wish

"That the regulation for the protection of a new form or 'get up' of a publication should be inserted in the law concerning the protection of industrial property.

"The Congress advises the various Publishers' Associations in every country to aim at the realization of this desire, and later on to find out ways and means to make this question an international one, as also one of literary and artistic copyright."

In London the following resolution was passed:

"That the principle of material property in innovations with regard to form or model which are exemplified by a publication should be formally recognized by the legislatures of the different countries."

The "innovations in form" which it is desired should be better protected are set forth as follows:

"1. The outward appearance individualized by the cover, illustrated or not, the size and the letter-press of books forming a collection.

"2. The uniform character chosen by a publisher for all his works or for special publications.

"3. The arrangement, plan, idea, etc., of textbooks, chrestomathies, methods, compilations, almanacs, etc."

Accompanying the circular is a table of questions addressed to the national associations designed to secure information for the Permanent Office in regard to the status of the movement in each country.

The Permanent Office also renews, in another circular, its request that the national associations keep it informed of any steps taken in their respective countries to secure the repeal of customs duties on books in accordance with resolutions passed by the Congress in 1896 and 1901.

NEWSPAPER NOT A MANUFACTURING ESTABLISHMENT.

JUDGE MILLER, according to the Louisville Courier-Journal, handed down an opinion in the case of the Columbia Finance and Trust Company against the Dispatch Publishing Company, in which he held that a newspaper is not a manufacturing establishment, like a rolling mill or a foundry, as specified by the statute. For this reason the lien claimed by the Manufacturers' Paper Company for $3,072.52 for paper furnished the defunct concern is denied.

The following is from the opinion: "It is true that a newspaper is sometimes spoken of as a manufacturer of public opinion, but in using this description it is not intended to convey the impression that a newspaper makes or manufactures public opinion for sale, in the sense that a rolling mill or foundry manufactures iron or iron implements for sale. The claim of the Manufacturers' Paper Company to a lien for material and supplies will have to be denied."

The opinion was upon exceptions to the Commissioner's report and in chief for final judgment.

MINNESOTA BACKS ITS AUTHORS AGAINST INDIANA'S.

"Indianapolis," says the St. Paul Pioneer Press, "is very much 'set up' about its literary standing, but the Twin Cities can boast of writers whose productions are doing the country more good than those of the whole crowd of novel writers. We refer to those connected with the Minnesota Agricultural School and Experiment Station. They are not only teaching American farmers how to make two blades of grass grow where only one grew before, but they are doubling the productivity of our wheats and other grains., increasing the weight of our cattle, multiplying our fruits, teaching us the food value of different products, and making life more 'worth living' than ever before. So long as St. Paul is the centre for the distribution of such beneficent literature as the class here referred to, we are quite willing that Indianapolis shall remain the centre for novels."

DATING WATER MARKS.

RICHARD GARNETT recently wrote to the London Times: "I should be glad to say a few words upon a subject of some importance to archivists and men of letters who may hereafter have to deal with the dates of documents, more especially private correspondence. I refer to the almost universal omission by paper-makers of the date of the manufacture of their paper, which used to be recorded by the water-mark.

"Everyone who has had occasion to determine the date of a letter left undated by the writer, and where the postmark was absent or illegible, must have felt under deep obligation to the paper-maker, by the aid of whose water-mark it could in most cases be approximately ascertained. It is to be feared that the inquirers of the future will frequently find themselves in difficulty; especially as in former days the postmark was impressed upon the letter itself, while it is now stamped upon an envelope which may easily be lost or thrown away.

"Nothing could be easier than to revert to the old practice, and such a step would earn for the manufacturers the gratitude of all concerned in historical or literary research.

"The great importance which a dated water-mark may possess in legal proceedings is strikingly illustrated by a passage in the interesting letters of Céar de Saussure on England in the time of the first Georges, recently published by Mr. Murray. A dishonest steward endeavored, by means of forged documents, to make his mistress, the Duchess of Buckingham, responsible for the repayment of large sums which had in fact never been advanced to her.

"A lengthy lawsuit followed, which came before the Court of King's Bench, and the Duchess, who had already been condemned to lose the lawsuit by the Judges of the Court below, was going to be condemned by those of the higher Court, when one of them had a sudden inspiration. Seizing a contested bill, the Judge held it up to the light, and, having examined it carefully, he discovered to a certainty that the bill was forged, the date and water-mark on the paper being several years posterior to the date of the writing."

COPYRIGHT MATTERS.

CANADIAN COPYRIGHT ASSOCIATION.

IN the Council Room of the Board of Trade at Toronto on July 7 a meeting of half a dozen of the publishing houses of Toronto was held and a Canadian Copyright Association was formed with the following officers: Honorary President, John Ross Robertson; President, W. J. Gage; First Vice-President, D. A. Rose; Second Vice-President, A. S. Hart; Secretary-Treasurer, A. Briggs; Executive Committee, W. P. Gundy, J. R. Barber, Atwell Flemming, A. E. Huestis, Thos. G. Wilson and J. A. Cooper. The object of the new association is to agitate for a satisfactory Canadian copyright law.

FALSE NOTICE OF COPYRIGHT.

JUDGE WALLACE, of the Federal Court, recently held that a defendant who imported from Germany and sold in the United States books bearing a false copyright notice which had been impressed on them by the publisher in Germany by defendant's authorization was not liable to the penalty, the statute having no extraterritorial effect.

OBITUARY NOTES.

Mrs. Annie French Hector, better known by her pseudonym, "Mrs. Alexander," died in London July 10. Mrs. Hector came of the well-known Irish family of French, of Roscommon, and was born in Dublin in 1825. She began to write at an early age, but her marriage with Alexander Hector, a Scotchman who was the companion of Layard in his exploration of Nineveh, interrupted achievements in this direction. After her husband's death she resumed her pen, and her first published work, "The Wooing O't," written in middle life, brought her at once a reputation with the public. But she herself recorded the fact that nearly every plot of her stories, which include "The Admiral's Ward," "Look Before You Leap," "A Crooked Path," "A Winning Hazard" and many more, was clearly formulated in her brain as long as five and twenty years previously, and, though she did not make any notes on the subjects, she remembered them all. Many of her novels were contributed in serial form to such magazines as All the Year Round and Temple Bar.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

W. M. Ramsay, Professor of Humanity at Aberdeen, and author of a number of more or less popular books on the Scriptures, such as "Was Christ Born at Bethlehem?" etc., is at work on a life of St. Paul.

Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett Townsend has quite recovered her health and has taken a cottage at Easthampton, L. I., where she will spend the summer at work upon her next novel, "The Destiny of Bettina."

Wu Ting-Fang, the Chinese Minister, who will soon return to China, has made it known that he intends to write two books. One of these will record his impressions of America and will be for circulation in the United States. The other will consist of his world-wide observations outside of China, and is intended for sale in his own country to educate his people in Western civilization.

The order of knighthood has been conferred on F. C. Burnand, editor of Punch; Gilbert Parker, the well-known novelist; Dr. Conan Doyle, novelist and historian of the Boer war; William Laird Clowes, naval critic and historian, and William Allan, author of several volumes of poetry and other works of a practical order. Leslie Stephen, the first editor of "The Dictionary of National Biography," and author of "The Science of Ethics" and other philosophical works, is made K. C. B., and the same honor is conferred upon Professor William Ramsay, the well-known chemist. King Edward VII. has established a new Order of Merit, which, it is understood, does not carry with it any title or precedence, or the right to use any special letters after the names of its members. The order, however, is to be extremely limited in number, and suitable decorations and insignia are provided. A cross of red and blue enamel of eight points, bearing the words "For Merit" in gold letters, in a laurel wreath on a blue enamel centre, is to be the badge of the order. Members of the order will be permitted to affix a facsimile of the badge to their arms. The seal of the order will give a facsimile of the badge, with the Royal Arms on a white ground, inscribed "The Seal of the Order of Merit." Among the first members are the Right Hon. John Morley, the Right Hon. W. E. H. Lecky, Lord Kelvin and Lord Lister. Other honors conferred on men who are well known in literature are a Privy Councillorship for Sir Alfred Lyall, author of "Asiatic Studies" and other works, and a Companionship of the Bath upon Frank Marzials, of the War Office, who has written several biographies and edited, conjointly with Eric Robertson, the Great Writers series. Many of the other recipients of knighthoods and other honors have written books, especially the physicians and surgeons, who figure so liberally in this list as compared with previous occasions.

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

Elliot Stock, London, will hereafter publish his "Book Prices Current" in quarterly parts as well as in the annual volume. The first part will be published shortly.

Alexander Denham & Co., London, who are represented in this country by E. A. Denham, 28 W. Thirty-third Street, New York, have published a very interesting catalogue of books, manuscripts, autographs and drawings, that is as handsome typographically as it is rich in contents. (195 titles + facsimiles. 2*s.* 6*d.*)

Dodd, Mead & Co. are now taking up subscriptions for the 1901-1902 volume of "American Book Prices Current," compiled, as heretofore, by Luther S. Livingston. As many intending subscribers were disappointed last season, and as the edition is limited to the number called for, with 116 copies to spare, all who desire a copy will do well to place their orders now. Thirty copies will be printed on large paper for those wishing to make annotations.

The Bulletin of Bibliography for July, published by the Boston Book Company, 83 Francis Street, Boston, contains an article on "Practical Bibliography," by J. I. Wyer, Jr., librarian of the Nebraska Library; the concluding portion of an annotated list of books and articles to aid in the study of King Alfred's life and times, by Mary Medlicott; a continuation of the "Errata in Poole's Index and Supplements," compiled by Frederika Wendté; also, Part viii of the second series of George Watson Cole's bibliography of "Bermuda in Periodical Literature."

BUSINESS NOTES.

Boston, Mass.—The Sheriff is in possession of B. F. Larrabee's.

Boston, Mass.—Catharine G. McAdams has succeeded Charles W. McAdams, bookseller.

Cincinnati, O.—The American Book Company will erect a new building on the Anderson homestead property, 400x169 feet, at Third and Pike streets. The new building may not be begun before next year.

Corning, N. Y.—Harry J. Sternberg has purchased the old-established bookstore of Clute & Way, and extensive improvements in arrangement and equipment will follow. There will be an expansion of business all along the line.

Findlay, O.—D. C. Connell & Son, booksellers, are reported to have gone into involuntary bankruptcy.

Grand Island, Neb.—W. H. Platte, bookseller, is selling out and will retire from business.

Greensboro, N. C.—J. J. Stone & Co. have bought the bookstore formerly owned by E. P. Irwin.

Greenville, Miss.—G. F. Archer, bookseller, who has occupied the same store here for thirty-two years, is selling out his stock and will retire from business.

New York City.—The Metaphysical Publishing Company, of No. 114 West Thirty-second street, is in financial difficulties, and on July 14 Judge Fitzgerald, of the Supreme Court, appointed Vernon M. Davis temporary receiver of the assets, with a bond of $50,000, in proceedings for the voluntary dissolution of the corporation brought by Directors Leander E. Whipple, E. F. Stephenson and George A. M. Stevenson. The liabilities are $24,612. The nominal assets are $18,150, and actual assets $14,705.

South Bend, Ind.—Herr & Herr have bought out the Tribune Store, one of the largest book, stationery and fancy goods concerns in Northern Indiana and Southern Michigan, which for twenty-five years has been conducted by the Tribune Printing Company. It was founded in 1874, a few years after the organization of the Tribune Printing Company, in the store at what is now No. 127 West Washington street. When the Oliver Opera-House Block was completed the business was removed to North Main street. The new firm is composed of Charles C. Herr, of Goshen, the head of Herr & Co., one of the leading stationery stores in that city and of his uncle, Eugene M. Herr, the head of The Tribune's job department and one of the best-known men in South Bend. There will be no change in the personnel of the staff of the Tribune Store, Mr. Axtel Swanson and Miss Jessie Valentine both remaining in the positions that they have filled so ably for many years.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

E. P. Dutton & Co. have in preparation a translation of the Taine letters that were so favorably received in France.

Rees, Welsh & Co., of Philadelphia, have published a volume of poems by the late Daniel L. Dawson, entitled "The Seeker in the Marshes."

J. B. Lippincott Company will publish in the fall a life of Pinturicchio, the master of decoration and the friend of the youthful Raphael, by Corrado Ricci. The volume will be adequately illustrated.

E. R. F. Blogg has resigned his position with B. G. Eichelberger, of Baltimore, to become manager of the retail department of Wm. J. C. Dulany Company. He will be pleased to receive advance announcements, catalogues, etc.

The facsimile of the manuscript of Milton's minor poems, to which we referred in our issue for April 12, was actually made in 1899 for members of Trinity College, and it is the remaining copies of that facsimile that are now offered for sale by Deighton, Bell & Co. and Macmillan & Bowes, both of Cambridge, England.

The Century Company will publish a condensed edition of the Nicolay-Hay life of Lincoln, prepared by the late John G. Nicolay. It will contain all the essential facts of President Lincoln's life contained in the ten-volume edition. They will publish shortly a new story of Southern life by Mrs. Ruth McEnery Stuart, entitled "Napoleon Jackson."

Allan, Lane & Scott have published for Edwin Swift Balch a monograph entitled "Antarctica," an argument in favor of the claims of Lieutenant Wilkes in particular, and certain American sealers and traders in general, upholding the right of American names to appear and remain on the new continent, in which a greater interest is growing as our knowledge of it is increased.

A. Wessels Company have almost ready a volume of clever golf stories entitled "The Magic Mashie," by E. L. Sabin, a well-known contributor to Outing, Golf and other magazines devoted to out-door life; also, "The Conquest of the Air," by John Alexander, with chapters on the "Balloon in War," "Scientific Ballooning," "The Achievements of Santos-Dumont and Others," "The Air ship of Yesterday and To-day," with a preface by Sir Hiram Maxim. Both volumes will be illustrated.

A. H. Smythe, Columbus, O., has just ready an "Archæological History of Ohio—the Mound Builders and later Indians," by Gerard Fowke, published by the Ohio State Archæological and Historical Society. The work is not written for scientists or specialists, but is intended to lighten the labor of those interested in archæology who have not the time or opportunity to wade through the vast amount of literature that has accumulated on this subject in the past fifty years. The work is very fully illustrated.

Drexel Biddle, Philadelphia, is about to publish "A Wanderer's Legend," by Maxwell Sommerville, well known as a collector of engraved gems and a writer thereon, also as a writer of books on travel. The forthcoming book is the narrative of the Wandering Jew, who is supposed to have appeared at the Diet of Speyer and then to have related the history of his wanderings to the assembled ecclesiastics. The story embraces a variety of Talmudic and early Christian tradition, and some Moslem traditions also, and its general scope embraces a summary of the world's history, and particularly of the history of religion throughout the centuries during which Ahasuerus had been wandering. The book is illustrated with drawings by the author.

The Funk & Wagnalls Company have just published a little book by the Rev. Dr. Arthur T. Pierson, entitled "The Gordian Knot, or, The Problem Which Baffles Infidelity," which is the outcome of honest doubt seeking a true answer to great questions, and is addressed to candid enquirers after truth; also, four new abridged editions of their "Standard Dictionary," edited by James C. Fernald, viz.: The Introductory Standard Dictionary, which belongs to the Educational Series of the "Standard" editions, and The Concise Standard, The Comprehensive Standard and The Comprehensive Standard which belong to the commercial Series. They will publish on the 25th inst. a work of interest to Jews and Gentiles, entitled "Jesus the Jew and other Addresses," by Harris Weinstock, who opposes the isolation of the Jews and advocates the newer and more liberal views that are helping to break down the walls of prejudice that are keeping the Jew apart from the rest of mankind; also, "A Brief of Necroscopy and Its Medico-Legal Relation," by Dr. Gustav Schmitt, which is immediately and practically adapted to the needs of coroners and physicians who are called upon to make examinations of dead bodies, and is also of assistance to every lawyer and medical expert who is engaged in the detection of crime resulting from administrations of poisons or other means of producing sudden death.

Houghton, Mifflin & Co. expect to publish in September the following fiction: "The Diary of a Saint," by Arlo Bates, a novel, in the form of a diary, presenting an eventful year in the life of a New England girl; "The Right Princess," by Clara Louise Burnham, a pioneer book in the field of fiction, being a Christian science novel, with much episode and action; "A Downrenter's Son," by Ruth Hall, a story of love and adventure in New York during the strange attempt to abolish rents about sixty years ago; and a new and complete edition of Maria S. Cummins's "The Lamplighter," the ever-popular novel of which there are several unauthorized and garbled editions in the market. In the department of history, biography and letters they announce John Fiske's last work, "New France and New England," which treats of the victory of the English civilization over the French and completes his chain of histories of the early development of our country; "Where American Independence Began," by Daniel Monro Wilson, an anecdotal history of Quincy, Mass., and its great families, the Adamses, Quinceys, Hoars and others; Lockhart's "Life of Sir Walter Scott," in five volumes, with exhaustive notes by S. W. Francis; "Nathaniel Hawthorne," by Professor George E. Woodbury, in the American Men of Letters; also, volume v. of "Letters to Washington," edited by S. W. Hamilton.

Lee & Shepard have under way an autograph edition of Mrs. Elizabeth Akers's "Sunset Song, and Other Verses," a volume of poems hitherto unpublished, with a single exception, "Rock Me to Sleep, Mother," which is printed at the end of the volume with a note from the publisher, giving its history. The Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post, it appears, originally printed the poem, paying the author $5. A firm of music publishers issued it with a setting by Earnest Leslie and paid nothing, but offered the author $5 apiece for any more songs as good as the first. As their profits during the first six months amounted to many thousands, they could then afford this extravagance, but when Mrs. Akers actually sent them a song they refused it on the ground that they "could do nothing with it." A few years after the first appearance of the song Alexander T. W. Ball, of New Jersey, declared that it was his. Certain newspapers espoused his cause, and had he not published what Rossiter Johnson calls the most absurd pamphlet ever written the real author might have been deprived even of the crdit of originating her pseudonym of "Florence Percy." The pamphlet aroused some able defenders for her, and at last the late William Douglas O'Connor, writing in the New York Times, utterly refuted Mr. Ball's pretensions to be "Florence Percy" or anything but an imitator. In her new volume Mrs. Akers includes a grateful eulogy of her defender.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted" book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of five nonpareil lines exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small, undisplayed, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

☞ In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

☞ Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly" does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

THE BEST BOOKS FOR SUMMER READING

SIXTH EDITION

THE VIRGINIAN

A HORSEMAN OF THE PLAINS

By Owen Wister

Illustrated. 504 pp., $1.50

"THE VIRGINIAN is a book which must prove of absorbing interest to everybody. It is quite impossible to conceive of anybody being able to lay it down unfinished when once begun."—The Daily Transcript, Boston.

"THE VIRGINIAN carries you along with a rush and sweep, and at the final page you lay it down feeling full of the best brand of Western prairie ozone, and almost sunburnt from perusing it. To read it is an unalloyed delight."—The Evening Sun, New York.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF THE CHRISTIAN RELIGION

By ANDREW MARTIN FAIRBAIRN, M.A., D.D.

Principal of Mansfield College, Oxford, Author of "Studies in the Philosophy of Religion," "Christ in Modern Theology," etc.

Cloth, 8vo, 583 pp., gilt tops, $3.50 net. (Postage 25 cts.)

"The most important book of its kind that has appeared for years. Dr. Fairbairn is unquestionably one of the most masterful thinkers of the time. He is at the same time intensely modern. He understands exceptionally well the points at which the most vital problems in present day thought have arrived, and so he discerns keenly the points where the fundamental questions of philosophy, science and religion meet."—The Chicago Tribune.

THE LOWER SOUTH IN AMERICAN HISTORY

By WILLIAM GARROTT BROWN

Lecturer in History, Harvard University, Author of "Andrew Jackson," etc.

Cloth, 12mo, 271 pp., $1.50 net. (Postage 12 cts.)

SHELL LIFE

An Introduction to the British Mollusca. By EDWARD STEP, F.L.S. With 32 original plates photographed from the actual shells, and upwards of 600 woodcuts in the text. Crown 8vo, cloth gilt, gilt top. $2.00.

. . . This is not a dry-as-dust list of shells, but a really entertaining and instructive book written with the idea of popularizing what has hitherto been considered an abstruse subject.

ALSO, IN THE ABOVE SERIES

THE ROMANCE OF WILD FLOWERS

A Companion to the British Flora. By EDWARD STEP, F.L.S. With 200 illustrations, uniform with the above. $2.00.

From the preface: "Not intended for botanists, but for unscientific flower-lovers . . . To-day the naturalist is principally concerned in observing the habits of the plant, its attitude towards insects, and the relation of one species to another."

FOR ALL WHO CONTEMPLATE MOTORING

THE MOTOR CAR

An Elementary Handbook on Its Nature, Use and Management. By SIR HENRY THOMPSON, F.R.C.S. (London), &c. 12mo, cloth. $1.00.

. . . Sir Henry took to the motor car in his (youthful) old age, and in these few pages he describes his experiences in learning its mechanism and movement, its relation to the various living objects it encounters on the road, and naturally the writer touches on the hygienic advantages of this method of locomotion and the various forms of motive power.

Also by the same author a little brochure of timely interest

"THE UNKNOWN GOD"?

An Essay. In 18mo, cloth, gilt top, 60 cents; or, neat paper wrapper, 35 cents.

. . . An attempt to seek by careful deduction from available data, some certain assurance respecting the influence which the "Infinite and Eternal Energy from which all things proceed" has exercised on man from the beginning.

Special Orders for Commander Leigh

A Story of the "Lower Coast" of Louisiana

By COL. RICHARD HENRY SAVAGE

THE history of the secret operations of the Confederate Government in Europe has been but formally written by Commander Bullock. The counter plots of our Foreign Ministers and hidden attachés abroad, have heretofore been veiled to the general reader. It was after dominating the Atlantic coast that the Navy Department turned to the Gulf and the Father of Waters. In the historic regions of Louisiana and the "black belt," New Orleans was fated to fall first, and Mobile to hold out, last, of all the great Confederate sea ports!

The graphic pictures of the birth of the "Alabama" and the scenes in "The Confederate Colony in Paris" are masterfully painted. This delightful love story relates to the adventures of a Naval officer, whose proud Southern father and Northern mother were separated by the slavery conditions before the war.

The hero conducts a night attack upon the grand old manor house whence riflemen had annoyed the assembling fleet. The discovery of a beautiful cousin and a dashing young Confederate relative, leads up to the magnificent night battle on the Mississippi. The young Confederate prisoner escapes to Europe to join the "Alabama" then building.

Later, the loyal Southerner is sent to Europe to watch the "290," and after thrilling adventures, aids in the sinking of the "Alabama" as a volunteer on the "Kearsarge," rescuing his defiant relative. There is no incident in this dashing novel which is not directly taken from the happenings of that sad war time, a thousand times stranger than fiction! A book to be read with breathless interest from cover to cover.

THE HOME PUBLISHING COMPANY

3 East Fourteenth Street, New York

A SUCCESSFUL publisher is one who constantly seeks to get the best value for the least money. That's why I am a successful bookbinder. Also because I turn out the highest grade of work at from ten to twenty-five per cent. less than anyone else. How do I do it? That is the burning question amongst the trade to-day.

My answer is, "Don't ask the why and the wherefore," but send me your stamps and dummies and I will make up samples which will show the highest character of work and upon which I will give you estimates that cannot be met. My equipment and plant is the finest and one of the largest of its kind in the country. Large output and small profits are the keystones to my success. Don't take my word for these statements. Come and see for yourself.
